Where do these rubrics come from?

- Combining existing rubrics.
- Research: older materia medica, clinical confirmation, provings old and new.
- Representative of a system that may exist within - or even outside of - homeopathy.
- All of the above!

10

When and why choose a Theme Repertory?

11

SAMUEL HAHNEMANN

§ 211 – ... the choice of the homeopathic medicine is often determined by the state of mind of the patient which is a very characteristic symptom.

§ 213 – Thus if we do not see among the other symptoms in each disease, even the grave ones, the symptoms related to changes in mental and moral conditions we will never be able to heal according to nature, that is, homeopathically.

'Mind' symptoms are subjective by their very nature, and it can be difficult to locate our patients within the confines of the available symptoms.

Themes help us model the characteristics of our patients, especially in the mental & emotional realm.

13

Jeremy Sherr
Definition of the right rubric

'The rubric that has the right remedy in it'

14

For example.....

Patient who cares too much about others, worries about them, and is burnt out from looking after them

15

Which of these????

- Cares, full of, others about
- Sympathetic
- Anxiety others, for
- Anxiety - caretaking of others, from
- Weakness - nursing and staying up with sick person

16

• Right rubrics + Rubric with right remedy=

Right result

Large Generalised Rubrics

Large, generalized rubrics

Mind rubrics less developed

24

JEREMY SHERR

Bonninghausen Method

Use large general rubrics, where you are sure the remedy is in the rubric

Only then go to more characteristics, keynotes and particulars

Large general rubrics → MIND SECTION

27

JEREMY SHERR

Start with the LARGE and RELIABLE rubrics. Repertorize to the MAIN GROUP of remedies.

Use smaller rubrics and modalities to narrow your choice from within the main group.

CASE

Woman born 1973
CC: Fibromyalgia

Over 5 years great improvement with remedies like: Thuja, Stramonium, Ignatia

After 5 years, a new remedy:

- Sunshine is important to me.
- I set high standards
- I struggle with emotional highs and lows. I get upset when I go down where I feel like I can't stop myself from crying.
- I have high expectations.

Light
Light & Dark

High & Low

42

42

Old age

- I think a lot about getting old these days. Who is going to take care of you? They abandon people.. how do you get along?
- I have some obsessive compulsive tendencies. I have to walk into a room and I have to do certain things before I leave that room.

43

43

- I have a high tolerance for pain. I'm used to dealing with some kind of pain
- I have always carried a guilt over staying at home with my kids
- I get very embarrassed about feeling sick... it reminds me of when I started dealing with the fibromyalgia
